Dear Ron,

On behalf of the Town of Brookhaven's Office of Women's Services, I would like to thank you for the workshop you presented to the residents of Brookhaven on May 22, 2008.

"Stress and the Single Parent" offered some very valuable and practical advice on how parents can deal with the everyday stresses of raising children and how to thrive in all their relationships.

I can honestly say that over the twenty plus years that we have offered this workshop series to the public, you certainly stand out as one of our most talented and authentic presenters. Your humor and sincerity, which was displayed throughout the presentation, made this workshop what I think you intended it to be which was a healing and encouraging experience.

We applaud your efforts in helping and supporting the many single parents across Long Island and look forward to inviting you back in the future.

Sincerely,

Theresa Leuffen, Director
